MACMILLAN POLAR EXPEDITION SETS SAIL

MOST AMBITIOUS VENTURE SINCE PEARY'S VOYAGE

AIRCRAFT TAKEN ALONG, TO BE USED IN EXPLORA-
TION

CHEERS AND GOOD WISHES OF COUNTRYMEN RING IN THEIR EARS

Wicasset, Me., June 20.—Out of the peaceful little harbor of Wicasset with the cheers and good wishes of their countrymen ringing in their ears, the explorers of the MacMillan Navy polar expedition will set sail this afternoon upon the most ambitious search since Peary landed the Stars and Stripes upon the top of the world 16 years ago.

Even before the tight little vessels, Peary and Bowdoin weighed anchor, the State of Maine was disputing his right to claim sovereignty over any land the expedition might discover.

Governor Brewster at a farewell dinner presented a state flag to MacMillan and said:

"If you land up there, we hope you will claim it on behalf of Maine."

Those who believed this was contrary to the federal constitution were bitterly opposed to Governor Brewster's view, though Commander MacMillan refused to be drawn into a controversy, said nothing and ordered his expedition northward.

High on the deck of the Peary can be seen the crated air craft in which the explorer and his right hand man from the United States Navy hope to fly over territory never visited before by white men.

From Wicasset, the expedition will sail down the Sheepscott River to the sea; then by the Eagle boats 42 and 43 which were sent by the navy department.

They will be followed by the Bowdoin and Peary with nearly 100 pleasure craft completing the parade. Nearly 25,000 visitors who have arrived here by train, boat and automobile will be at the dock and along the harbor's edge to join in giving the MacMillan party a rousing send-off. MacMillan and Lieut. Commander Byrd were the guests of the governor at a Southport inn last night. They are expected to return here by boat before noon.

TWO HUNDRED MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22.—Two hundred mile on one gallon of gasoline, one quart of crank case oil, and two gallons of water, is the achievement claimed for William Hunt, Pennsylvania railroad machinist at the Ebenzer shops of the Buffalo division. Hunt's invention, for which he has applied for patent, was tested on a trip from Buffalo to Erie, Pa., the round trip of which is approximately 200 miles.

In making a start, gasoline is used to start the motor, to which is attached a small tank containing water to be heated. When steam is generated in the tank, the gasoline supply is shut off and crude oil is fed the motor.

Hunt has been using his invention throughout the past winter and claims to have had no motor trouble. The use of his invention, it is said, generates more power than if the engine were operated in the usual manner.

TOBACCO MAN SEARCHES FOR HIS 15-YEAR-OLD SON

Pittsburgh, June 20.—Frank Harwood, an executive of the American Tobacco Company, arrived here today to aid in the search for his 15-year-old son, Warren, who disappeared from New York City eight days ago with Webster Cosse, 14, son of Charles A. Cosse, civic commissioner of Mount Vernon, N. Y. The parents of the two youths have offered a reward of $5,000 for their recovery.

TRAVELED FROM BRAINERD TO
ST. PAUL IN REFRIGERATOR
CARS

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 20.—Two weary runaway girls are in the county jail here awaiting reports from their parents at Duluth.

According to the story told to a deputy sheriff who arrested them near White Bear, the girls, Florence Norman and Ruby Holden, both 17, had come to St. Paul from Brainerd in an empty refrigerator car.

They told the deputy sheriff, he said, that two boys had given them a ride to St. Paul and had promised to take them back.

St. Paul, June 20.—Emil Voelz, Danube, Minn., postmaster, has been re-elected president of the Minnesota Division National League of District Postmasters.

Miss Jennie C. Phillips, Clearwater postmaster, is vice president, and F. B. Linsley, Willow River, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Winona, June 20.—A delegation of 35 Kiwanians from here will leave Monday to attend the national convention which is to be held in St. Paul commencing June 23. Along with the delegates will be the Winona Boys' band consisting of 60 pieces.

FLIERS BECAME SEPARATED WHEN THEY ALIGHTED

A HORRIBLY DESOLATE PLACE WHERE AMUNDSEN AND CREW LANDED

DAYS SPENT IN LEVELING ICE
FOR "TAKE-OFF" OF THE MACHINE

In a copyrighted story by North American Newspaper Alliance, Lincoln Ellsworth gives his story of experiences in the Amundsen expedition, as follows:

It is a little early for me to tell a connected and adequate story of my experiences on the polar flight. I shall not attempt to do so, but shall lightly and impressionistically give some of the high lights of our four weeks in the north.

After eight hours flying toward the pole, we sighted our first open water, a narrow lead in the solid expanse of ice. We alighted in perfect fashion on the surface of the water and our hopes were high. Then the lead closed, its icy walls crunching upon each other, and the N-24 was badly damaged.

On landing we had become separated and for a day we of the N-24 were ignorant of the whereabouts of the N-25. Finally we sighted it across the ice, but were unable to reach it for four days, owing to the continual opening of new leads in the ice, which was shifting about constantly, showing occasional patches of open water which opened and closed in a most annoying fashion.

We signaled each other and they asked us to come over and help save their plane. They had somehow prevented it from suffering any great damage in the leads by pulling it onto the sloping surface of an ice-berg.

It was a horribly desolate place which we had picked as our abode, a Dante's inferno of jagged ice and snow. During our entire stay we saw almost no sign of animal life, one day we caught a glimpse of a single seal, another day three geese, weakened by long flight, alighted near us, but we were unable to kill them.

We lived in the planes, which were cold, damp and uncomfortable, their inside metal frosted. We renewed our bodily warmth from time to time at our thermix burners. The temperature was 10 below zero, I remember, on one occasion when I looked at the thermometer.

Dietrichson and Omdal all but lost their lives one day when they fell suddenly through a hole in the ice up to their necks, and were almost dragged down by some whirling current underneath.

We transferred all but one can of gasoline from the N-24 to the N-25, and just got back to Spitzbergen with hardly a drop to spare.

Every extra ounce of equipment and baggage was chucked away in order to lighten the airplane—even our furs.

The take-off was difficult and precarious. I thought we should never get into the air. The ice caught and recaptured the sled before it finally rose at the edge of our cleared starting space.

Preparing that starting place was a heart killing task. We all grew weak with the endless chopping away of ice. Our diminished ration was not enough to keep our strength in the face of such terrific labor, but we did not dare to eat more for we had to save enough to feed us on the journey afoot to Cape Columbia if our airplane return failed.

How many times did we try to get off the ice into the air? I have tried to remember. I think it was thrice five times. I had almost given up hope.

During the first week of our sojourn we studied constantly over the problem whether we should stick with our one remaining plane or abandon it and start immediately for Cape Columbia.

We finally agreed to wait until

SENATOR

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 20.—The train bearing the body of Senator Robert M. La Follette from Washington to Madison, Wis., arrived here at 9:15. The car carrying the body and members of the family and friends was switched to the Chicago & Northwestern railroad on the journey to Madison. Delegates of La Follette's followers met the train.

FINAL PEACE AMONG HIS PEOPLE

Aboard LaFollette funeral train near Garrett, Ind., June 20.—Back to his home land west, Senator Robert M. LaFollette came today to find his final peace among his own people. Moving ahead of schedule the funeral train bore him this morning through the endless fields of farmers to whom he dedicated his life.

Manned by railroad workmen, whose battles he fought for 50 years, it will deliver him up to the people who sent him to the senate.

REMINGTON IS GUEST OF HONOR

HEAD OF SONS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION SHOWN COUR-
TESIES IN FARGO

(By United Press)
Fargo, June 20.—Judge Harvey Remington, President-General of the National Association of the Sons of the American Revolution, will be a guest of the North Dakota organization at a banquet and dance at the Gardner Hotel Wednesday. Mr. Remington, who is accompanied by his wife, is on his way to the Pacific coast.

Cats Out of Luck

Washington, June 22.—A new use has been found for old automobiles. Rats and gophers were damaging a local golf course until someone ran a tube from the exhaust pipe of a car down into their holes. The carbon monoxide gas killed all of the rodents in the holes.

The 15th before giving up the fight against the ice and forsake the plane. One night a week ago Amundsen said that he felt "in his bones" that the 15th would be our lucky day. It was.

Personally, I do not believe we could even have reached Cape Columbia on foot with our insufficient food and equipment. We probably could not have accomplished more than 100 miles over the terrible ice conditions. From the first I was strong for sticking to the plane. Feucht shared my feeling so strongly that he told me he would ask Amundsen to let him stay with his plane alone, simply giving him his share of food and leaving him to try to work out his own salvation with his beloved Dornier-Wal, even if all the others left on foot.

OSLO WAITS FOR RETURN OF AMUNDSEN

Oslo, June 20.—Oslo, waiting proudly for the return of Captain Roald Amundsen, hopes he will repair his airplane and fly here. An official desire has been expressed that the explorer fly down King's Bay, Tromsø and along the coast.

BUTTER SALES OF STATE CO-OPS. IS UP 400 PER CENT

PLANT OF MINNESOTA CO-OPER-ATIVE BODY WILL BE EX-PANDED

MAY BUSINESS OF ASSOCIATION
SHOWS TREMENDOUS INCREASE

St. Paul, June 20.—May business of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries is virtually four times the amount done in the same month a year ago.

This is disclosed in the monthly report of A. J. McGuire, manager. The volume of business done last month exceeds any previous month's business in the four years of the organization's existence, Mr. McGuire said.

Coincident with this large increase officials are seriously considering a change of location from the present quarters at Hampden ave. and Charles st., Mr. McGuire said. The association for a time considered building its own plant, but sentiment of the management is largely for a change to quarters that could be rented.

Total sales of butter in May of this year aggregated 8,900,000 pounds, Mr. McGuire said. In May a year ago, the total sales were 2,576,000 pounds. The total volume for 1924 for 32,000,000 pounds. In May of this year the association paid out to its 400 creamery members a total of $3,841,785.95.

Minnesota Co-operative Creameries was incorporated June 6, 1921, with only 15 members. Since then the membership has grown to 476. Of this number, 400 creameries sell their products through the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries.

Originally the association was formed as a service organization. It has since become a sales organization. One location in Minneapolis, another in St. Paul and a third choice of remaining at its present quarters but having these greatly enlarged, have been discussed in regard to the enlargement.

The association's management has determined on a "reasonable expansion" program, Mr. McGuire said. "Our business increase seems to warrant a reasonable program of expansion," he said today, "but we also have declared for a program of strict economy. We will not expand beyond the absolute requirements for the efficient conduct of our increasing business."

EARLY WESTERN PICTURES REVIVED

Mandan, N. D., June 20.—Revival of early western pictures, when thousands of head of livestock were driven across the plains, is being afforded residents in the western section of the state today.

Several score of cowboys, driving approximately 100 Texas longhorns started today from the old Roosevelt ranch at Elkhorn for Mandan. The troupe is to be augmented at Dickinson by a score or more cowboys and prize outlaw stock from the New England rodeo, which closed today.

Cowboys all along the 200 mile line and owners of wild horses are expected to join the thundering herd bound for the Mandan roundup, July 2, 3 and 4. Practically the entire Badlands cow punching population will be on the train herd ride, according to "Badlands" Bill McCarthy, roundup superintendent. Meanwhile Mandan is preparing to entertain a crowd of more than 30,000 visitors expected for the roundup. The attendance this year is expected to eclipse all records due to the scheduled appearance of William Jardine, secretary of agriculture, who will ride a broncho in competition.

Secretary Jardine will deliver the main address July 4. In addition the prize money has been increased from $600 to $700 for the events.

GREAT NORTHERN MAY SOON OPERATE HUGE BUS SYSTEM

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 20.—The Great Northern railroad within six or seven weeks will have in operation a 1,300 mile system of lines in the state if favorable action is taken soon by the state railroad and warehouse commission petitions filed by subsidiary corporations of the railroad.

NORTHWEST HAS HAD ENOUGH RAIN, REPORTED

AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS RE-PORT TO UNITED PRESS

RED RIVER VALLEY HAS HAD
RAIN STEADY FOR 19
DAYS

(By United Press)
Crookston, June 20.—Northwest farms have had enough rain, agricultural experts here told the United Press.

Reports show that there is more than enough moisture in the ground to carry the crops through. It has rained every day for 19 days in most of the Red River Valley and thousands of acres of farm land are now under water.

Following last night's downpour, farmers today were out ditching their fields to drain off moisture which the already soaked land will not absorb. With prospects of a bumper crop at good prices, agrarians are fearful that more rain will seriously affect sugar beets, corn and small grain production.

Many fields are turning yellow already as a result of alternately hot sunshine and heavy rain. Very little rust has shown up so far, but continued wet weather may produce disastrous rust conditions, it is feared.

Corn cultivation is at a standstill because the fields are soaked. The downpour last night left streams in the Red River Valley badly swollen.

$4,000,000 OBLIGATION NOW FACES ASSOCIATION

"WE ARE FACING A DEAD LINE,"
SAYS PRESIDENT GRAY
SILVER

"WE SHALL SURELY HURDLE IT,"
HE COMMENTED HOPE-
FULLY

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 20.—Denying rumors by the "enemy" that the $26,000,000 Grain Marketing Company, the farmers' co-operative organization, is about to go on the rocks, officials of the company today declared they were confident they can meet the $4,000,000 obligation which faces them July 28th.

"We are faced by a financial problem," said O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, explaining the Marketing Company's status. "But we have not sent for the undertakers yet. We are not as near death as our enemies hope."

"We are facing a dead line, but we are sure we shall hurdle it," commented Gray Silver, president of the company.

Directors of the organization met and discussed a way out. Three methods were proposed, it was made known, but the directors said an announcement of the plans now might injure the necessary sale of stock.

TUBERCULOSIS CONVENTION NEARING END

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 20.—The National Tuberculosis association's 21st annual convention came to an end today with a pathological conference in which the nation's outstanding research men participated.

Results observed in the treatment of tuberculosis with fatty acids was the chief subject of the discussion. Dr. Charles Hoisserein, of Colorado Springs, was the principal speaker.

He disclosed that effects from his experiments showed that the virulence of tuberculosis was lost after three hours' treatment with unsaturated fatty acids at 37 Fahrenheit temperature. The same experiments disclosed, he said, that soap solution introduced had no effect in the germ after any length of time.

Dr. H. E. Robertson, head of the section of pathologic anatomy at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, discussed "some of the unsolved problems in the treatment of tuberculosis."

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS TO MEET

St. Paul, June 20.—May business of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries is virtually four times the amount done in the same month a year ago.

This is disclosed in the monthly report of A. J. McGuire, manager. The volume of business done last month exceeds any previous month's business in the four years of the organization's existence, Mr. McGuire said.

Coincident with this large increase officials are seriously considering a change of location from the present quarters at Hampden ave. and Charles st., Mr. McGuire said. The association for a time considered building its own plant, but sentiment of the management is largely for a change to quarters that could be rented.

Total sales of butter in May of this year aggregated 8,900,000 pounds, Mr. McGuire said. In May a year ago, the total sales were 2,576,000 pounds. The total volume for 1924 for 32,000,000 pounds. In May of this year the association paid out to its 400 creamery members a total of $2,841,785.95.

Minnesota Co-operative Creameries was incorporated June 6, 1921, with only 15 members. Since then the membership has grown to 476. Of this number, 400 creameries sell their products through the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries.

Originally the association was formed as a service organization. It has since become a sales organization. One location in Minneapolis, another in St. Paul and a third choice of remaining at its present quarters but having these greatly enlarged, have been discussed in regard to the enlargement.

The association's management has determined on a "reasonable expansion" program, Mr. McGuire said. "Our business increase seems to warrant a reasonable program of expansion," he said today, "but we also have declared for a program of strict economy. We will not expand beyond the absolute requirements for the efficient conduct of our increasing business."

EARLY WESTERN PICTURES REVIVED

Mandan, N. D. June 20.—Revival of early western pictures, when thousands of head of livestock were driven across the plains, is being afforded residents in the western section of the state today.

Several score of cowboys, driving approximately 100 Texas longhorns started today from the old Roosevelt ranch at Elkhorn for Mandan. The troupe is to be augmented at Dickinson by a score or more cowboys and prize outlaw stock from the New England rodeo, which closed today.

Cowboys all along the 200 mile line and owners of wild horses are expected to join the thundering herd bound for the Mandan roundup, July 2, 3 and 4. Practically the entire Badlands cow punching population will be on the train herd ride, according to "Badlands" Bill McCarthy, roundup superintendent.

Meanwhile Mandan is preparing to entertain a crowd of more than 30,000 visitors expected for the roundup. The attendance this year is expected to eclipse all records due to the scheduled appearance of William Jardine, secretary of agriculture, who will ride a broncho in competition.

Secretary Jardine will deliver the main address July 4. In addition the prize money has been increased from $600 to $700 for the events.

GREAT NORTHERN MAY SOON OPERATE HUGE BUS SYSTEM

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 20.—The Great Northern railroad within six or seven weeks will have in operation a 1,300 mile system of lines in the state if favorable action is taken soon by the state railroad and warehouse commission petitions filed by subsidiary corporations of the railroad.

NORTHWEST HAS HAD ENOUGH RAIN, REPORTED

AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS RE-PORT TO UNITED PRESS

RED RIVER VALLEY HAS HAD
RAIN STEADY FOR 19
DAYS

(By United Press)
Crookston, June 20.—Northwest farms have had enough rain, agricultural experts here told the United Press.

Reports show that there is more than enough moisture in the ground to carry the crops through. It has rained every day for 19 days in most of the Red River Valley and thousands of acres of farm land are now under water.

Following last night's downpour, farmers today were out ditching their fields to drain off moisture which the already soaked land will not absorb. With prospects of a bumper crop at good prices, agrarians are fearful that more rain will seriously affect sugar beets, corn and small grain production.

Many fields are turning yellow already as a result of alternately hot sunshine and heavy rain. Very little rust has shown up so far, but continued wet weather may produce disastrous rust conditions, it is feared.

Corn cultivation is at a standstill because the fields are soaked. The downpour last night left streams in the Red River Valley badly swollen.

SONS OF NORWAY OF 3 STATES MEET

85 DELEGATES, 2,000 VISITORS
CENTER AT WILLISTON,
NORTH DAKOTA

(By United Press)
Williston, N. D., June 20.—Eighty-five delegates and 2,000 visitors are in attendance here at the 4th district convention of the Sons of Norway comprising North Dakota, Eastern Montana and Canada.

Featuring today's program is an entertainment to be given by Hans Seland, Norway, author and reader, and Nels Rein, violinist.

L. Stavnheim, Minneapolis, grand secretary of the grand lodge was among the speakers. Officers will be elected today and adjournment taken tomorrow.

SON INDICTED FOR MURDER OF FATHER

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 20.—The Ramsey county grand jury late yesterday indicted Edward Masson on a charge of murder. Masson shot and killed his father, Maximilian Masson, at their home near here in April. Quarrels between father and son over the latter's desire to visit neighboring farms was said to have caused the crime.

$4,000,000 OBLIGATION NOW FACES ASSOCIATION

"WE ARE FACING A DEAD LINE,"
SILVER

"WE SHALL SURELY HURDLE IT,"
HE COMMENTED HOPE-
FULLY

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 20.—Denying rumors by the "enemy" that the $26,000,000 Grain Marketing Company, the farmers' co-operative organization, is about to go on the rocks, officials of the company today declared they were confident they can meet the $4,000,000 obligation which faces them July 28th.

"We are faced by a financial problem," said O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, explaining the Marketing Company's status. "But we have not sent for the undertakers yet. We are not as near death as our enemies hope."

"We are facing a dead line, but we are sure we shall hurdle it," commented Gray Silver, president of the company.

Directors of the organization met and discussed a way out. Three methods were proposed, it was made known, but the directors said an announcement of the plans now might injure the necessary sale of stock.

TUBERCULOSIS CONVENTION NEARING END

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 20.—The National Tuberculosis association's 21st annual convention came to an end today with a pathological conference in which the nation's outstanding research men participated.

Results observed in the treatment of tuberculosis with fatty acids was the chief subject of the discussion. Dr. Charles Holscher, of Colorado Springs, was the principal speaker.

He disclosed that effects from his experiments showed that the virulence of tuberculosis was lost after three hours' treatment with unsaturated fatty acids at 37 Fahrenheit temperature. The same experiments disclosed, he said, that soap solution introduced had no effect in the germ after any length of time.

Dr. H. E. Robertson, head of the section of pathologic anatomy at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, discussed "some of the unsolved problems in the treatment of tuberculosis."

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS TO MEET

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 20.—Professor William Boss, chief of the division of agricultural engineering at the University Farm, is today heading a local delegation to the annual convention of American Society of Agricultural Engineers at Madison.

The delegation will represent Minnesota at the Rural Electrification convention which will be conducted after the close of the agricultural engineers' meeting.

It is expected that the convention will be invited to meet in Minnesota either in 1926 or 1927.

Thompson-Dykeman

Miss Ruth Dykeman and John C. Thompson were united in marriage on Thursday evening, June 18th, at 6 o'clock, at the home of T. G. Dykeman, Rev. E. A. Cooke of the Methodist church officiating.

Miss Gertrude Schellin, of Ironton, acted as bridesmaid, and James A. Thompson, a brother of the groom, as best man. Edra Dykeman, a niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of willows, ferns and cut flowers. Miss Lily Reed sang "I Love You" preceding the ceremony, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. E. Niles. Miss Red also sang a solo after the wedding. Mrs. Niles played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party approached the altar.

Following the ceremony a delicious wedding dinner was served on the lawn of the Dykeman home, 50 guests including immediate relatives, being present. The color scheme was pink and white, and the center of the table carried a large bride's cake.

In the evening a reception and dancing party was given for the newlyweds, some 350 guests being in attendance.

The bride's wedding gown was of white fat crepe over tulle. She wore a veil trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Schellin wore a gown of poudre blue satin-faced tulle, and carried deep pink roses. The flower girl's dress was of pink organdie and she carried a basket of white roses and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are well and favorably known in this locality. The bride is a daughter of T. G. Dykeman, of Dykeman post office. She has been a teacher in the rural schools of the county for a number of years.

The groom is agent in Brainerd for the Sinclair Refining Company. The newlyweds received many beautiful and useful gifts. They will make their home on East Oak street.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. D. Mason, and daughter, of Duluth, Miss Pearl Thomas, of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Forsten, Miss Amy Forsten, Mrs. Frank Buckholz, Mrs. Ernest Butler and son Robert, all of Minneapolis.

The Dispatch joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson in offering congratulations and best wishes.

Stewart-McGill

Miss Cleophas McGill and Ray Stewart are to be married at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic church, Pine River, Father H. J. Spain officiating. It has been announced.

Miss McGill is a daughter of Mrs. Winifred McGill, of Brainerd. She has been a teacher in the local schools for several years.

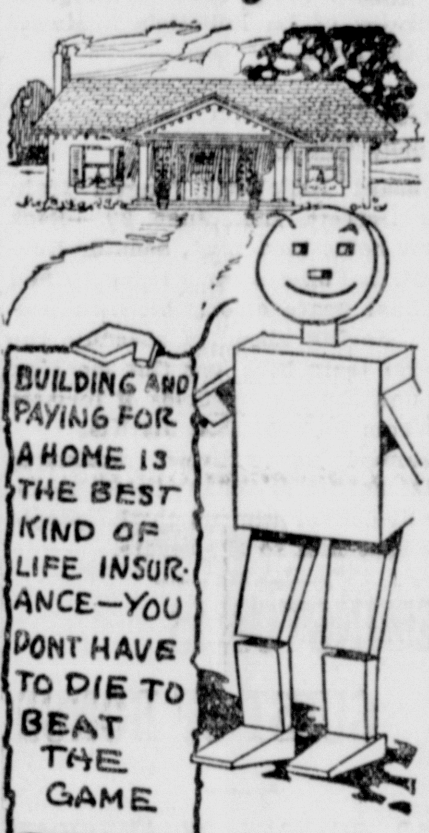

The groom is a son of W. D. Stewart, engineer between Brainerd and Morris. He is manager of the telephone exchange at Appleton.

The couple will spend their honeymoon at the Stewart cottage on Whitefish lake. They went to Pine River this afternoon, accompanied by his brother and sister-in-law from St. Paul. Miss McGill has a sister living in Pine River, Mrs. Joseph Ackerman.

PEONIES, IRISES, WILD FLOWERS

It will do your eyes good to see the wonderful display of peonies, irises and wild flowers which the Crow Wing County Garden Flower society is exhibiting at the court house. You need not be an expert in raising flowers; you may not know one bloom from another; but every human eye is open so far as beauty is concerned and in common parlance, you will get an eye-ful when you see that mass of beautiful color, creamy shades, riotous reds, faint pinks, assertive yellows, etc. Our color scheme falls short when it attempts to portray all the wonderful hues exhibited by the peonies.

And the irises. All shades flash in iridescent beauty. Little children added their share to the exhibits by gathering bouquets of wild flowers. The latter appear subdued before the flaming colors of their cultured sisters, the peonies and irises.

The flower bug has hit such staid citizens as William V. Turcotte. We always knew H. F. Michael was a flower lover and the fact that he won several firsts and carried away the sweepstakes indicates he is no mere amateur in flower culture. It was at the Turcotte store that some thousands of peony bulbs and dahlia bulbs were sacked and William V. became inoculated with the peony growing idea. The Turcotte contribution of peonies includes three beautiful specimens, huge yellow peonies tinged with splashes of white. We are no expert when it comes to classifying flowers, but we are certain of our position when we say that Bill did himself proud in his production of prize-winning peonies.

L. P. Hall is not a mere lecturer on flowers, he is a grower of note as evidenced by his wonderful collection on display. And Mrs. J. L. Frederick had a most beautiful basket of blooms on exhibition.

The name of Bunn on the Northern Pacific railway company is associated with the legal department. When you think of Bunn you think of lawsuits, ponderous supreme court decisions, etc. After seeing his exhibit of St. Paul prize winning white peonies, looking as pure and frothy as ocean-churned foam, you will have to revise the legal habits of the astute Bunn and also give him credit for having a remarkable streak in his makeup which shows itself in perpetuating the most beautiful peonies our eyes ever beheld.

The local garden flower society is to be congratulated on the excellent showing made, the prizes assembled, the noted growers interested. Any one who missed seeing this exhibition has lost a feast of beauty. It is a picture one may treasure in his mind's eyes for years and years to come.

As A. J. Wilkus says: "Plant peonies. They are the most gorgeous flowers on earth. Plant them in masses and you will have a splendid carpet of loveliness fit for the touch of angels' feet. Don't be stingy with your front yard. A fine house in a neglected yard looks like a thousand dollar picture in a ten cent frame. Your home is a dwelling place for immortals, who stand on the borders of the eternal beauty, where the stars are planted in the vast flower gardens of the Father."

DIFFERENCE IN FISHING SEASON

THE delaying of the fishing season has cost resorts in the Brainerd Lake Region considerable money. Early fishermen went to the territory south of St. Cloud where the early opening occurred. Fishing in the north region, with the exception of pike, will not be on in full force until this Sunday.

The Park Rapids Enterprise, in a news item notes that Charles Kellner was in from Shady Knoll Camp and reported that the bass in Little Sand and adjoining lakes left their spawning beds a week ago. The delaying of the fishing season to the 21st is costing the resorts on the Mantrap-Elbow chain of lakes a nice lot of business this year, without accomplishing any particular benefit.

The statement has been made by Mr. Surber of the State Game and Fish Commission that spawning is influenced by weather conditions and that the commission should be given the power to set the dates when such fishing season shall open. Throughout Minnesota we had cold weather in spots and heavy rains. A date set by the legislature months in advance, unacquainted with present weather conditions, cannot meet any given situation. THE DISPATCH believes this dividing line ruling, making southern fishing earlier than the northern section, is subject to considerable discussion and that conditions change so much that an arbitrary line and an arbitrary date may be of little value. We think the whole matter should be left to the discretion of the State Game and Fish Commission, which can mold regulations to fit the season. The spring of this year was an entirely different season in rainfall and temperature as compared with conditions of last year.

THERE ARE PRECEDENTS ENOUGH

A CAMPAIGN is under way in Wisconsin to return Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, widow of the senator, to the seat in the United States senate, made vacant by the death of her husband. Petitions are now being circulated by her friends.

There is precedent enough for such action. In California Mrs. Kahn succeeded to the seat of her husband in congress. At Pine River Mrs. Elmer B. Dahl succeeded to the postmastership when her husband, postmaster this term, died. Congressman Harold Knutson named Mrs. Dahl to fill the vacancy and she has made a very efficient official.

In Texas a former governor has been succeeded by his wife. In the case of the La Follettes, Mrs. La Follette has always taken a deep interest in her husband's political affairs, has advised him many times, has taken the stump with him and knows his policies thoroughly. We are of the opinion that Mrs. La Follette will serve Wisconsin well as a senator.

ASKED how the roads were enroute, a Missouri tourist told THE DISPATCH the roads got better as soon as they left their native state of Missouri. Minnesota roads are a regular paradise for motoring, said the tourist.

As a result of lower license fees, says Billy Noonan, Minnesota automobiles will have fewer taxes and more rattles this year.

THE average depositor never studies a bank statement until the institution is closed.

JUNE SHIPMENTS OF HUPMOBILES

June shipment of Hupmobiles will surpass those of June, 1924, by from 30 to 40 per cent, and will be larger even than those of June, 1923. O. C. Hutchinson, general sales manager of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation, said yesterday. They will exceed those of May, 1925, by at least 500 cars, he added. May shipments were 45 per cent higher than those for the same month last year.

"Demand for the new Eight is having considerable to do with our enlarged business," Mr. Hutchinson pointed out. "Since the recent reduction of $180 in the price of each model its sales at retail have already reached approximately a 30 per cent higher rate than their previous record. We expect their sales to grow still more in the next several weeks.

From June 1 to 10, eight cylinder shipments and orders for shipment totaled more than 1,200 cars, creating another new record for all cars of the eight-in-line type, of which the Hupmobile is the largest seller."

Hupp continues to be in an unusually favorable position. It carried over into June more than $2,000,000 worth of unfilled orders, which were coming in at the highest rate it has ever known at a corresponding time of year. Orders for more than $3,000,000 worth of cars were received during the first ten days of June.

Kansas City, Kan., June 20.—Sgt. Joseph Cigich, this city's police prodigy of station No. 4, can say "Stop thief!" in seven ways.

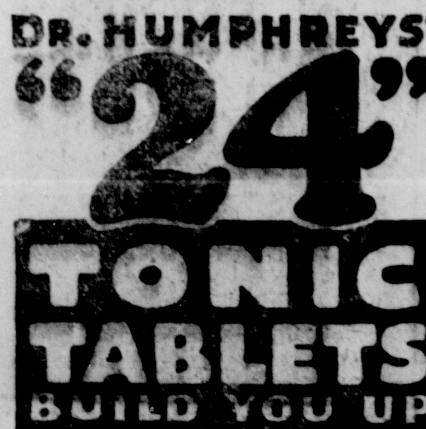

More than that—he can properly address the transgressor so as to eliminate the proverbial shaking of the head and accompanying gesticulations of one who "no understands."

He is a linguist, and his tongue twisters are not merely Mother Goose rhymes.

Sergeant Cigich converses in seven languages: English, Croatian, Serbian, Polish, Slovak, Bulgarian and Russian.

Forty years old, and a Croatian by birth, he came to Kansas City twenty-four years ago and has taken complete citizenship papers. He said he learned the languages from persons he associated with in his youth. Besides being master of seven languages, Cigich is the father of nine children.

Turkeys Perform Wild Dance Around Snake

I know not if the wild turkey suffers from snake bite; but at sight of a large snake the bird will show extreme excitement. If a flock be present a slow dance will be begun about the reptile, the birds lowering their wings, raising and spreading their tails and making a continuous querulous calling. Single birds will detach themselves from the revolving circle to make frantic dashes at the snake, says a story in "Days Off in Dixie."

"This dervishlike performance will continue for an hour or more. If the snake is not too formidable he will likely be killed; but a serpent of the proportions of a great diamond-back rattler will be left unmolested."

"I once witnessed this strange snake dance in the mountains of southern Pennsylvania. From the top of a hanging rayline I looked down through the mist of dawn and counted the turkeys. There were 26 in number. They continued their antics about the snake for a full half hour, when they broke up the dance and began foraging. The snake was a king snake and a large one. The turkeys probably left him dazed and deafened, but otherwise he was unharmed."

Kilt Not National Dress of Scotland

By many people, the kilt is regarded as the national dress of Scotland, but this is not correct, for it is worn only in the Highlands and has never been popular in the Lowlands. The kilt was suppressed by act of parliament in 1745, after the Jacobite rebellion, and though it was tolerated at a later date, it never became popular again.

The earliest mention of the kilt is to be found in an obscure passage of the Norwegian history of Magnus Barefoot, a king of that country who came to the Hebrides in the Eleventh century. It appears that the dress of those days consisted of a sort of skirt, dyed or painted, and a mantle, the former being the original of the kilt and the latter of the plaid.

In "Letters from the North of Scotland," published in 1725, the author describes the Highlanders as wearing "a bonnet made of thrum, without a brim; a short coat, a waistcoat longer by five or six inches; short stockings, and brogues without heels. Over this habit they wear a plaid, which is usually three yards long and two breadths wide, and the whole garb is made of chequered tartan."

Old Sea Superstition

The Flying Dutchman was a phantom ship seen by sailors in tempestuous weather off the Cape of Good Hope, and considered the forerunner of ill luck. The generally accepted tradition, as stated by Sir Walter Scott, is "that she was originally a vessel loaded with great wealth, on board of which some horrid act of murder and piracy had been committed; that the plague broke out among the wicked crew, who had perpetrated the crime, and that they sailed in vain from port to port, offering, as the price of shelter, the whole of their ill-gotten wealth; that they were excluded from every harbor for fear of the contagion which was devouring them; and that, as a punishment of their crimes, the apparition of the ship still continues to haunt those seas in which the catastrophe took place."—Kansas City Times.

The Price of Mush

"Ah, fried mush for breakfast!" exclaimed Potter. "I certainly do like fried mush! I wish we might have it more often."

"I will try to," said Mrs. Potter. Mr. Potter looked at her, just a bit suspicious.

"When a man works as hard as you do, he is entitled to a few delicacies," Mrs. Potter chattered on. "I don't care for fried mush myself, but then I can eat my toast and drink my coffee. We'll have it more often, just like you say."

"That's fine," Mr. Potter commented, but he was lacking in enthusiasm. "And now, how much will it take for your shopping today? Remember, money is not very plentiful right now even if I do have fried mush for breakfast!"—Exchange.

Resourceful Man

A policeman was walking down a certain street with a batch of summonses for nonpayment of rent.

One "victim" saw him coming, locked himself in the house and snatched up a pair of bellows.

The officer knocked several times without response, and then proceeded to put the summons under the door, but it promptly blew out again.

This was repeated many times and finally the policeman, getting tired, picked up the summons with the remark:

"Well, I don't blame him for not paying rent for a drafty hole like that!"

"Meanest Man" Found in Kansas Community

"If the governor was to offer a prize for the meanest man in 17 states," indignantly declared the landlord of the Petunia tavern, "half the population, and mebbe all of 'em, would p'int right at Ira Sours in one voice and say, 'There he stands, governor.'"

"Why, dod-blast him, he attends every home talent dramatic performance that is given in the hall here, and right in the most moving parts, when the kinfolks of our best young people are setting in solemn silence while their sons and daughters are uttering words of heroic and pathetic mien, as it were, he laughs out loud, in the most rye-bald tone imaginable. Recently when my nephew, whose Adam's apple works up and down quite excitedly when he is interested in what he is saying, was telling the audience that his father was slain in battle-uh, his mother died of a broken heart-uh, and his home was laid desolate-uh, fired by the torch of the invader-uh, Ira Sours, confounded him to thunder, actually laid back and blow-haw-hawed as if it was youmeorous!"—Kansas City Times.

Towns Have Similar and Some Odd Names

Colne sounds rather distinctive as a name for a town, yet there are ten Colnes in England. There also are 14 Burtons, and 37 Burtons with additions. There are 23 Prestons and 38 others with affixes. Jericho appears six times on English ordnance maps; Paradise, five times, and Nineveh, Mt. Zion, Mt. Ararat, and Mt. Ephraim three times each.

The name Washington is used by more than 200 cities, towns, villages and hamlets in America, yet a letter addressed to Washington without any other designation will go to Washington, D. C., while one addressed to Preston, will be delivered to the Lancashire cotton town, according to London Tit-Bits.

Names consisting of a single letter are not uncommon. France has a river and Sweden a town named A, while there is a River Y in Holland, and one of the bays of the Zuyder Zee bears the same name. Two Chinese towns are Y and O, while in Normandy there is a town named O.

The First Compass

While on the slopes of Mount Ida, in Asia Minor, more than two thousand years ago, a shepherd found that the iron-shod end of his staff was clinging to a stone. He also found many pieces of this strange stone scattered on the ground.

This hard black mineral, which is an oxide of iron, became known as "magnet-stone," as it was found in a district called Magnesia. It is probable that our word magnet is derived from the name.

No use was made of the mineral for many centuries. At last, however, a Chinese found that a piece of this stone, hung on a thread, always pointed to the north and south. This crude instrument was the father of our modern compass.

Officers of Woodmen Report the Order in Prosperous Condition

(By United Press)
Rock Island, Ill., June 20.—The summary of the reports of the head officers of the modern Woodmen of America, to be made to the Head Camp in session at Chicago, June 23-26, were made public here today.

The report of J. G. Ray, head clerk, showed the following:

At the end of the official quadrennial term, December 31, 1924, the total Beneficial membership in absolute good standing was 1,101,503.

This membership was enrolled in 14,141 Camps.

The Social membership at the same time was 15,097, giving a total membership of 1,116,600.

The insurance in force was $1,650,239,000.

There was an actual net gain in Beneficial membership for the four years of 58,613.

The net gain in insurance in force was $48,773,000.

The total number of Beneficial certificates issued to new members during the term was 487,067.

There were 29,161 certificates issued through new Camps and 437,906 through old Camps. These certificates represented $574,072,500 insurance.

There were 416,856 new members adopted, representing $512,352,000 insurance.

Offsetting these accretions, there were 42,882 deaths reported, involving insurance of $73,633,500.

Benefit certificates not taken up aggregated 44,817, representing $55,165,500 insurance.

A total of 3,494 members took 70-year Benefits, canceling $6,746,000 insurance.

The 311,622 lapses, including 490 forfeitures, canceled $388,189,000 insurance.

Net gains in membership were made in forty-one states in the Society's jurisdiction, and ten states (including four Canadian provinces) made losses. In the Canadian territory the Society has not been writing new business for several years on account of adverse provincial laws.

Science and Ourselves

There is nothing wrong with science. The danger in the future is that we may apply science destructively instead of constructively. The world's progress depends upon character, not upon scientific devices, and if we look to our characters the scientific devices will help our happiness. If we don't—there may be chaos!

Here's a Chance to Know the Secrets of a Queen

Would you like to see a story depicted of a real Queen's life? A Queen who ruled with her husband in a brilliant kingdom in Europe, was dethroned and then forced into exile in Paris? A Queen who had all the beauty and magnetism of a story heroine, and whose gayety and laughter hid bitter tears?

Such is the story of "Confessions of a Queen," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a Victor Seastrom production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, adapted to the screen by him and Agnes Christine Johnston from the famous story by Alphonse Daudet.

Turkeys Perform Wild Dance Around Snake

I know not if the wild turkey suffers from snake bite; but at sight of a large snake the bird will show extreme excitement. If a flock be present a slow dance will be begun about the reptile, the birds lowering their wings, raising and spreading their tails and making a continuous querulous calling. Single birds will detach themselves from the revolving circle to make frantic dashes at the snake, says a story in "Days Off in Dixie."

"This dervishlike performance will continue for an hour or more. If the snake is not too formidable he will likely be killed; but a serpent of the proportions of a great diamond-back rattler will be left unmolested."

"I once witnessed this strange snake dance in the mountains of southern Pennsylvania. From the top of a hanging rayline I looked down through the mist of dawn and counted the turkeys. There were 26 in number. They continued their antics about the snake for a full half hour, when they broke up the dance and began foraging. The snake was a king snake and a large one. The turkeys probably left him dazed and deafened, but otherwise he was unharmed."

Kilt Not National Dress of Scotland

By many people, the kilt is regarded as the national dress of Scotland, but this is not correct, for it is worn only in the Highlands and has never been popular in the Lowlands. The kilt was suppressed by act of parliament in 1745, after the Jacobite rebellion, and though it was tolerated at a later date, it never became popular again.

The earliest mention of the kilt is to be found in an obscure passage of the Norwegian history of Magnus Barefoot, a king of that country who came to the Hebrides in the Eleventh century. It appears that the dress of those days consisted of a sort of skirt, dyed or painted, and a mantle, the former being the original of the kilt and the latter of the plaid.

In "Letters from the North of Scotland," published in 1725, the author describes the Highlanders as wearing "a bonnet made of thrum, without a brim; a short coat, a waistcoat longer by five or six inches; short stockings, and brogues without heels. Over this habit they wear a plaid, which is usually three yards long and two breadths wide, and the whole garb is made of chequered tartan."

WIND AND RAIN DO MUCH HAVOC

GRAND FORKS COUNTY HAS MANY BARN WRECKED

(By United Press)
Grand Forks, June 20.—Wind and rain last night and early today wrought havoc in a territory five miles long and four miles wide between Gilby and Honeyford, Grand Forks county.

Dozens of barns were wrecked and chimneys blown from many houses by the storm, reports said. Trees were torn down in some places and telephone poles blown over. A number of cattle also were killed.

Three children narrowly escaped injury when the barn in which they had sought shelter was shattered by wind. Basements here were flooded for the third time this month when one and a half inches of rain fell. The telephone and electric light service was badly disrupted.

Friar Bacon's Brazen Head Is Old Legend

According to a legend prevalent in the Middle ages, Roger Bacon (1214-1292) spent seven years constructing a brazen head, which he fancied would tell him how to surround the island of Great Britain with a wall of brass. This head was to speak within a month after its completion, but no special hour was set for its so doing. Bacon, accordingly, set his servant to watch, specially enjoining him to notify his master in case the head should speak. At the end of the first half hour the servant heard the head exclaim: "Time is"; at the end of the second half hour, "Time was," and at the end of the third half hour, "Time's past"; whereupon it fell with a loud crash and was shattered to pieces. The servant neglected to call Bacon, thinking he would not care to be disturbed for such a trifle, and thus the knowledge necessary to build the brazen wall was never acquired.

This belief in the existence of a talking brazen head was widely spread in the Middle ages. Gerbert, a French churchman, is said to have made such a head; and Albertus Magnus is alleged to have constructed an entire man of brass.—Kansas City Star.

Can Learn Much by Study of Child Mind

"The child mind," said Professor Davidson, "is almost beyond comprehension, and yet, if studied carefully, it is the key to all psychology, for children are true mirrors of human nature. We often wonder why Robert insists on a five-cent bat like Ralph's. Instead of the better, more costly one his father bought him, and why Mary threw her wax doll into the corner and demanded a rag doll like Martha's.

"One Christmas I sent my niece and nephew each a ring. Edith had a ruby and Alfred's a plain seal. My sister, with many exclamations, presented the rings and waited for the happy burst of joy, but to her amazement Alfred began to cry.

"Why, Alfred, what's the matter?" demanded his mother.
"Oh," sobbed Alfred, "I want a ring with a stop light."

Why He Did Not Fight

White, who was small and puny, had offended Brown, who was a powerful fellow six feet in height, and who had, in consequence, declared that he would thrash White whenever he met him.

Some time later an unkind fate threw them together and, true to his promise, the big man gave poor White such a blow on the face as almost knocked him down.

Recovering himself, the victim exclaimed:

"Confound it, sir! What's that for? Do you mean that in jest or earnest?"

"In earnest," replied the other, placing himself in a fighting attitude.

"Oh, very well," said White, "If it's in earnest there's nothing more to be said, but if it had been in jest I should not have liked it at all."

And he walked off.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Bad Temper Harmful

Bad temper, an eminent pathologist has discovered, has the strange effect of increasing the amount of sugar in the blood by 10 per cent to 30 per cent in the course of a few minutes. That is why an angry man wants to fight the object of his rage. He becomes hot-blooded because the accession of carbonaceous material intoxicates his muscular system. The strange thing is that this rapid change is due to a tiny gland about the size of a pin. When it functions normally a person remains calm and even-tempered. If the essence exudes too lavishly, hatred, passion, and quarrels ensue.

Pocket Money

If I felt called upon to advise parents, I should enunciate solemnly this golden rule: If you wish your son to be honest, see to it that he has pocket money. The sum need not be large, but it must be his own.—Henry James Forman, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

"Larry" and "Bill"

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I dislike the nickname "Larry"
When I see it in a book;
Something gives it such a very
Cold and keep-your-distance look.
I dislike the imputation
Of its ladylike design,
For it bears no close relation
To things masterful and fine.

But I like to hear it spoken!
When some fellow calls to me,
Then it seems a happy token
Of what friendship ought to be;
Then I feel that I've been greeted
As a comrade and a pal,
And I'm sure that I'll be treated
Just like Jim and Tom and Al.

Yes, I'd rather have men hail me
In that warm familiar way
Than to have them all assail me
With a "mister" every day.
Any man may greet another
With a "William" or a "Will"
But you claim him for a brother
When he lets you call him "Bill."

LAD, FORGOTTEN BY HIS PARENTS, HAS NECK BROKEN

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 20.—Forgotten by his parents 5-year-old Everett Libby was left asleep in the family automobile when the car was placed in the garage for the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Libby returned to their home here late Friday night with Everett asleep in the rear seat of the car. They retired, each believing the other had taken the boy in the house.

This morning George Hunt, passing by the garage, saw the boy's head protruding from the window. Apparently in attempting to crawl out of the garage the window had fallen on him. His neck was broken.

Coroner Gilbert Seashore of Hennepin county is investigating the child's death.

SHANGHAI STATUS TO BE DISCUSSED

(By United Press)
Washington, June 20.—Foreign limitation of the international settlement of Shanghai from Chinese jurisdiction which has been excluded for many years may be taken by the powers in discussing the Shanghai riots, the state department was advised today. The diplomatic body of Peking has intimated to the Chinese government that if the government desires, they are disposed to request the authorization of their respective governments to discuss in a most friendly spirit the conditions presented at Shanghai, a department official said.

There propositions which concerned the management of the international settlement and administration of affairs there were the cause of the breakup June 11 of the Shanghai conference between representatives of the powers and government.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY AND WITH BIGAMY

(By United Press)
Duluth, June 20.—Edna Merriman, 35, now serving a 30-day jail sentence for forging her husband's name to a check was today made defendant in a complaint of bigamy filed in municipal court this morning by Lloyd Merriman, her legal husband.

Merriman, a steel plant laborer, charges that she had unlawfully married Emil Bertrand, April 30. Bertrand is an auto mechanic and also lives here. Mrs. Merriman will be brought from the county jail to answer the new charge Monday. Merriman claims that his wife left him four days before she married Bertrand.

ST. PAUL WOODMEN DRILL TEAM SEEKS MORE HIGH HONORS

WIND AND RAIN DO MUCH HAVOC

GRAND FORKS COUNTY HAS MANY BARN WRECKED

(By United Press)
Grand Forks, June 20.—Wind and rain last night and early today wrought havoc in a territory five miles long and four miles wide between Gilby and Honeyford, Grand Forks county.

Dozens of barns were wrecked and chimneys blown from many houses by the storm, reports said. Trees were torn down in some places and telephone poles blown over. A number of cattle also were killed.

Three children narrowly escaped injury when the barn in which they had sought shelter was shattered by wind. Basements here were flooded for the third time this month when one and a half inches of rain fell. The telephone and electric light service was badly disrupted.

Friar Bacon's Brazen Head Is Old Legend

According to a legend prevalent in the Middle Ages, Roger Bacon (1214-1292) spent seven years constructing a brazen head, which he fancied would tell him how to surround the island of Great Britain with a wall of brass. This head was to speak within a month after its completion, but no special hour was set for its so doing. Bacon, accordingly, set his servant to watch, specially enjoining him to notify his master in case the head should speak. At the end of the first half hour the servant heard the head exclaim: "Time is!"; at the end of the second half hour, "Time was," and at the end of the third half hour, "Time's past"; whereupon it fell with a loud crash and was shattered to pieces. The servant neglected to call Bacon, thinking he would not care to be disturbed for such a trifle, and thus the knowledge necessary to build the brazen wall was never acquired.

This belief in the existence of a talking brazen head was widely spread in the Middle Ages. Gerbert, a French churchman, is said to have made such a head; and Albertus Magnus is alleged to have constructed an entire man of brass.—Kansas City Star.

Can Learn Much by Study of Child Mind

"The child mind," said Professor Davidson, "is almost beyond comprehension, and yet, if studied carefully, it is the key to all psychology, for children are true mirrors of human nature. We often wonder why Robert insists on a five-cent bat like Ralph's. Instead of the better, more costly one his father bought him, and why Mary threw her wax doll into the corner and demanded a rag doll like Martha's.

"One Christmas I sent my niece and nephew each a ring. Edith had a ruby and Alfred's a plain seal. My sister, with many exclamations, presented the rings and waited for the happy burst of joy, but to her amazement Alfred began to cry.

"Why, Alfred, what's the matter?" demanded his mother.
"Oh," sobbed Alfred, "I want a ring with a stop light."

Why He Did Not Fight

White, who was small and puny, had offended Brown, who was a powerful fellow six feet in height, and who had, in consequence, declared that he would thrash White whenever he met him.

Some time later an unkind fate threw them together and, true to his promise, the big man gave poor White such a blow on the face as almost knocked him down.

Recovering himself, the victim exclaimed:

"Confound it, sir! What's that for? Do you mean that in jest or earnest?"

"In earnest," replied the other, placing himself in a fighting attitude.

"Oh, very well," said White. "If it's in earnest there's nothing more to be said, but if it had been in jest I should not have liked it at all."

And he walked off.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Bad Temper Harmful

Bad temper, an eminent pathologist has discovered, has the strange effect of increasing the amount of sugar in the blood by 10 per cent to 30 per cent in the course of a few minutes. That is why an angry man wants to fight the object of his rage. He becomes hot-blooded because the accession of carbonaceous material intoxicates his muscular system. The strange thing is that this rapid change is due to a tiny gland about the size of a pin. When it functions normally a person remains calm and even-tempered. If the essence exudes too lavishly, hatred, passion, and quarrels ensue.

Pocket Money

If I felt called upon to advise parents, I should enunciate solemnly this golden rule: If you wish your son to be honest, see to it that he has pocket money. The sum need not be large, but it must be his own.—Henry James Forman, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

"Larry" and "Bill"

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I dislike the nickname "Larry"
When I see it in a book;
Something gives it such a very
Cold and keep-your-distance look.
I dislike the imputation
Of its ladylike design,
For it bears no close relation
To things masterful and fine.

But I like to hear it spoken!
When some fellow calls to me,
Then it seems a happy token
Of what friendship ought to be;
Then I feel that I've been greeted
As a comrade and a pal,
And I'm sure that I'll be treated
Just like Jim and Tom and Al.

Yes, I'd rather have men hail me
In that warm familiar way
Than to have them all assail me
With a "mister" every day.
Any man may greet another
With a "William" or a "Will"
But you claim him for a brother
When he lets you call him "Bill."

LAD, FORGOTTEN BY HIS PARENTS, HAS NECK BROKEN

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 20.—Forgotten by his parents 5-year-old Everett Libby was left asleep in the family automobile when the car was placed in the garage for the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Libby returned to their home here late Friday night with Everett asleep in the rear seat of the car. They retired, each believing the other had taken the boy in the house.

This morning George Hunt, passing by the garage, saw the boy's head protruding from the window. Apparently in attempting to crawl out of the garage the window had fallen on him. His neck was broken.

Coroner Gilbert Seashore of Hennepin county is investigating the child's death.

SHANGHAI STATUS TO BE DISCUSSED

(By United Press)
Washington, June 20.—Foreign limitation of the international settlement of Shanghai from Chinese jurisdiction which has been excluded for many years may be taken by the powers in discussing the Shanghai riots, the state department was advised today. The diplomatic body of Peking has intimated to the Chinese government that if the government desires, they are disposed to request the authorization of their respective governments to discuss in a most friendly spirit the conditions presented at Shanghai, a department official said.

There propositions which concerned the management of the international settlement and administration of affairs there were the cause of the breakup June 11 of the Shanghai conference between representatives of the powers and government.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY AND WITH BIGAMY

Mary Dyer

Mary Dyer was the wife of William Dyer, who removed from Massachusetts to Rhode Island in 1638. Having been sentenced to execution for rebellious sedition and obstructing herself after banishment upon pain of death, she was reprieved at the request of her son, on the condition that she departed in 48 hours and did not return. She returned and was executed June 1, 1660. She was a Quakeress, and, in the estimation of her friends, a martyr.—Chicago Journal.

Mises Elizabeth Folsom and Margaret Jones at Congregational Gathering of Young People

The Misses Elizabeth Folsom and Margaret Jones of Brainerd have been in attendance this week at the summer conference of Congregational young people of the state, held on the Carleton college campus, Northfield.

About 150 boys and girls of high school and college age attended the week of classes held in the open air, under a faculty composed of Congregational leaders of the state and two missionaries to China, both of whom are alumni of Carleton college.

The forenoons were devoted to classes, the afternoons to organized recreation, and the evenings to play and special lectures. The young people in attendance have been entertained in the dormitories at the college.

ST. PAUL LADY IS KILLED NEAR CROSBY

Mrs. Catherine Medders, Wife of Abner A. Medders, Meets Sudden Death

CAR CROWDED OFF ROAD

Tipped Over and Pinned Her Down, Crushing and Killing Her Instantly

Mrs. Catherine Medders, wife of Abner A. Medders, St. Paul, was instantly killed near Bay Lake about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in an automobile accident.

The mishap occurred when the car in which she was riding was crowded off the road by another automobile, and tipped over, pinning Mrs. Medders beneath it.

Joseph Ehrmanntraut, a brother of Mrs. Medders, and a deputy sheriff of Ramsey county, was driving the car, the two being enroute to Crooked lake.

In overturning, a corner of the windshield frame struck Mrs. Medders across the chest, pinning her under it, with the weight of the car crushing her. She died instantly.

The coroner was called from Brainerd, who pronounced the death accidental, and the body was taken to Crosby and prepared for burial. It was taken to St. Paul for interment today. Mrs. Medders was 62 years old. Nothing could be learned as to her family or other surviving relatives.

TOY BALLOONS TO ADVERTISE 4TH

American Legion Releases First Balloon Friday, Latter Taking Air Like Veteran

250 TO BE RELEASED

Prizes to be Awarded Those Who Find the Little Balloons

The American Legion sent out the first toy gas balloon on Friday, as the first step in its preparations for the coming Fourth of July observance. The balloon, filled with commercial gas manufactured in Brainerd, with a cardboard tag attached, took the air like a veteran, mounting high until it could hardly be seen.

The Legion expects to send out 250 of these balloons during the coming week. Each one is 20 inches in diameter, made of thin rubber, and inflated by the Brainerd Gas & Electric Company. Each time the wind changes a number will be released, so that they will travel out in all directions.

Tags have been printed which will be attached to each balloon. On the tag is an advertisement concerning the July 4th celebration in Brainerd, and instructions advising the holder to bring it with him to the celebration that he may participate in prizes that will be awarded those who find the balloons.

This means of publicity has been used to good advantage in the past by various organizations throughout the country. The toy balloons have been known to travel in some instances nearly a thousand miles, while the large majority break and fall to the ground within a radius of from 75 to 100 miles.

The local post of American Legion is planning to make the coming celebration the finest that has been held in Brainerd for a number of years, and one that will be long remembered. Committees will begin active work on the festivities next week and expect to complete all arrangements in a short intensive campaign. The entire celebration will be staged at Lum park, which with its large addition this year, offers excellent possibilities for such an observance.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Battling Moco and Sweeney, the tiger fighter, fought a three round battle Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Camp Clearwater, according to news just brought in by a lady courier, who begged to be sure and get "the piece in the paper." The first round and part of the second was decidedly Sweeney's, but Battling Moco staged a comeback and won the decision by a bent whisker. The fight was promoted by W. Barnes. The managers were J. Chadbourne and T. Anderson. Referee was D. Gise. More will be staged, all set for 8 o'clock in the evening.

SILVER JUBILEE OF FATHER HOGAN

Local Priest of St. Francis Catholic Church Observes 25th Year of Priesthood

MARKED WITH HIGH MASS

Father Spain Preached Eloquent Service Eulogizing Father Hogan's Unselfish Service

Father James Hogan, pastor of St. Francis Catholic church, celebrated his silver jubilee on Wednesday, June 17th, that date being the 25th anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood.

The observance was marked with solemn high mass at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Francis church, which was celebrated by Father Hogan, assisted by Father Walter Remmis of this parish and Father H. J. Spain, of Pine River.

Father Spain preached an eloquent sermon, eulogizing the years of unselfish service that Father Hogan has given to the church, and emphasizing the value to the church and to the community of such a service.

A number of visiting priests, friends of Father Hogan, were in attendance, and all were motored to Round lake after the church service, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John Cummins at a dinner at their summer home.

Visiting priests included Father Spain of Pine River, Father Ryan, of Proctor, Father Mockler, Cass Lake, Father O'Brien, Buhl, Father Patt, Eveleth, Father McCafferty, Deerwood, and Father Tertooogen, of St. Mathias.

Father Hogan was educated and ordained into the priesthood in Ireland. He came to the United States shortly after his ordination, one of his first pastorates, being an assistant in the cathedral at Duluth. Other pastorates include the parishes of Grand Forks, N. D., Proctor, Virginia, and Hibbing.

Father Hogan came to Brainerd four years ago last November, succeeding Father J. J. O'Mahoney, with whom he exchanged pastorates, the latter priest going to Hibbing. The growth of the local church has been steady under the guiding hand of Father Hogan, until the present building is inadequate to serve the parish, and its enlargement is being considered.

Origin of Chapels

The word chapel comes from cap, a chest. The word was originally applied to the chest in which the relics of a saint were deposited, afterwards to the apartment in a church or cathedral in which the chest was kept. These chapels were dedicated separately, but were known by the name of the saint whose relics they contained.

NOTICE BIDS WANTED

ON CANOE TRIP OF THE MISSISSIPPI

Albert S. Tousley and Richard Patten to Navigate River Its Full Length

Covered 35 Miles Friday, Delayed by Log Booms and Portages

Albert S. Tousley, a young man who is making a canoe trip down the Mississippi river from its source in Itasca lake to its mouth in the gulf of Mexico, arrived in Brainerd Friday evening with his companion, Richard Patten, of Minneapolis.

The young men are making the trip in a 17-foot canoe. They resumed the voyage at daybreak this morning, expecting to camp tonight at Little Falls, and arrive in St. Paul late Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty-five miles were all that was covered on Friday, due to a number of log booms and portages. Mr. Patten will go as far as Keokuk, Iowa, where he will be replaced by another who will continue to the gulf.

TOY BALLOONS TO ADVERTISE 4TH

American Legion Releases First Balloon Friday, Latter Taking Air Like Veteran

250 TO BE RELEASED

Prizes to be Awarded Those Who Find the Little Balloons

The American Legion sent out the first toy gas balloon on Friday, as the first step in its preparations for the coming Fourth of July observance. The balloon, filled with commercial gas manufactured in Brainerd, with a cardboard tag attached, took the air like a veteran, mounting high until it could hardly be seen.

The Legion expects to send out 250 of these balloons during the coming week. Each one is 20 inches in diameter, made of thin rubber, and inflated by the Brainerd Gas & Electric Company. Each time the wind changes a number will be released, so that they will travel out in all directions.

Tags have been printed which will be attached to each balloon. On the tag is an advertisement concerning the July 4th celebration in Brainerd, and instructions advising the holder to bring it with him to the celebration that he may participate in prizes that will be awarded those who find the balloons.

This means of publicity has been used to good advantage in the past by various organizations throughout the country. The toy balloons have been known to travel in some instances nearly a thousand miles, while the large majority break and fall to the ground within a radius of from 75 to 100 miles.

The local post of American Legion is planning to make the coming celebration the finest that has been held in Brainerd for a number of years, and one that will be long remembered. Committees will begin active work on the festivities next week and expect to complete all arrangements in a short intensive campaign. The entire celebration will be staged at Lum park, which with its large addition this year, offers excellent possibilities for such an observance.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Battling Moco and Sweeney, the tiger fighter, fought a three round battle Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Camp Clearwater, according to news just brought in by a lady courier, who begged to be sure and get "the piece in the paper." The first round and part of the second was decidedly Sweeney's, but Battling Moco staged a comeback and won the decision by a bent whisker. The fight was promoted by W. Barnes. The managers were J. Chadbourne and T. Anderson. Referee was D. Gise. More will be staged, all set for 8 o'clock in the evening.

Strictly a Ford schedule is used in making our charges for repair work. You can charge it at Lively's. 9817

1st Congregational Aid

The ladies aid of the First Congregational church will be held on June 24, at the lake home of E. H. and Thomas Jones. Cars will leave the church at 2 p. m. Anyone having no way of going call Mrs. C. W. Hoffman of Mrs. D. E. Whitney.

SILVER JUBILEE OF FATHER HOGAN

Local Priest of St. Francis Catholic Church Observes 25th Year of Priesthood

MARKED WITH HIGH MASS

Father Spain Preached Eloquent Service Eulogizing Father Hogan's Unselfish Service

Father James Hogan, pastor of St. Francis Catholic church, celebrated his silver jubilee on Wednesday, June 17th, that date being the 25th anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood.

The observance was marked with solemn high mass at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Francis church, which was celebrated by Father Hogan, assisted by Father Walter Remnis of this parish and Father H. J. Spain, of Pine River.

Father Spain preached an eloquent sermon, eulogizing the years of unselfish service that Father Hogan has given to the church, and emphasizing the value to the church and to the community of such a service.

A number of visiting priests, friends of Father Hogan, were in attendance, and all were motored to Round lake after the church service, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John Cummins at a dinner at their summer home.

Visiting priests included Father Spain of Pine River, Father Ryan, of Proctor, Father Mockler, Cass Lake, Father O'Brien, Buhl, Father Patt, Eveleth, Father McCafferty, Deerwood, and Father Tertooegen, of St. Mathias.

Father Hogan was educated and ordained into the priesthood in Ireland. He came to the United States shortly after his ordination, one of his first pastorates being an assistant in the cathedral at Duluth. Other pastorates include the parishes of Grand Forks, N. D., Proctor, Virginia, and Hibbing.

Father Hogan came to Brainerd four years ago last November, succeeding Father J. J. O'Mahoney, with whom he exchanged pastorates, the latter priest going to Hibbing. The growth of the local church has been steady under the guiding hand of Father Hogan, until the present building is inadequate to serve the parish, and its enlargement is being considered.

Origin of Chapels

The word chapel comes from caput, a chest. The word was originally applied to the chest in which the relics of a saint were deposited, afterwards to the apartment in a church or cathedral in which the chest was kept. These chapels were dedicated separately, but were known by the name of the saint whose relics they contained.

NOTICE BIDS WANTED

The Board of Education of the Brainerd School District will receive sealed bids at the office of the Secretary, Louis F. Hohman, 214 S. 6th street, Brainerd, Minn., up to the hour of seven o'clock p. m. Monday, July 6th 1925, for furnishing all material and labor necessary for finishing up a classroom in the basement of the Lincoln school building. For furnishing all material and labor, to place steel ceiling on seven hallways and nine classrooms in the various school buildings and for furnishing and installing light fixtures and for laying two cement floors and a set of steps to entrance to school building. All to be done according to specifications on file at the office of the Secretary of this Board.

A certified check, made payable to M. E. Morrison, treasurer, to the amount of 10 per cent of bid must accompany each proposal.

Board of Education of the Brainerd School District reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

LOUIS F. HOHMAN, Sec'y Board of Education of the Brainerd School District.

ON CANOE TRIP OF THE MISSISSIPPI

Albert S. Tousley and Richard Patten to Navigate River Its Full Length

Covered 35 Miles Friday, Delayed by Log Booms and Portages

Albert S. Tousley, a young man who is making a canoe trip down the Mississippi river from its source in Itasca lake to its mouth in the gulf of Mexico, arrived in Brainerd Friday evening with his companion, Richard Patten, of Minneapolis.

The young men are making the trip in a 17-foot canoe. They resumed the voyage at daybreak this morning, expecting to camp tonight at Little Falls, and arrive in St. Paul late Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty-five miles were all that was covered on Friday, due to a number of log booms and portages. Mr. Patten will go as far as Keokuk, Iowa, where he will be replaced by another who will continue to the gulf.

WASHINGTON TO CARRY HOPES OF WEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 20.—Western superiority has been established in so many lines of sport in late years that there has developed in the East a tendency to look for "Eastern hopes." The hysteria is much like that which boxing experienced during the "white hope" days when there was a public clamor to find some one to beat Jack Johnson.

The West has been supreme on the intercollegiate track and field in four of the past five years. Western football teams have had the edge on Eastern teams in intersectional competition and Western crews have been so successful on the water that Eastern colleges have adopted Western methods and systems of training and teaching.

The champion Washington crew will defend its title Monday on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie against one middlewestern and five eastern crews and Washington is the favorite to win again, because the far-westerners seem to be as good as their predecessors, while most of the eastern crews are below standard.

The Navy eight will lead the fight of the East against Washington and Wisconsin, the latter the color-bearers of the middle-west. The Navy, with a powerful crew that suggests the national and Olympic champions of 1920, is being hailed as the "hope of the East," and is generally regarded as the biggest threat in the field.

Syracuse, Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania will complete the field of starters and of the four Pennsylvania is the only crew that is being given any serious consideration.

Columbia and Pennsylvania swapped horses in the middle of the stream this season when they made a change in their varsity coaches. Columbia made such a terrible showing in the Childs Cup race that Bill Haines was brought from Massachusetts Tech to finish the season as varsity coach. He had to make over the entire crew, change the boating in the varsity shell and make corrections in the stroke. No coach can make a good crew in three weeks and there isn't the material at Columbia with which any genius could work a miracle.

WORKMENLATTER NOW TIE FOR FIRST PLACE WITH THE ELKS

By staging a one run rally in the seventh inning, the Workmen scored a 7 to 6 victory over the Y. M. C. A.

This victory for the Workmen keeps them in a tie for first place with the Elks.

The game was well played and was no one's game until the last map was out.

The features of the game were the fielding of McAlpine and his two timely clouts. One of them came with two out in the seventh and he scored the winning run later on Howard's single.

The Workmen have won four straight games and are going strong, which will make a grand race for the first half of the season.

YALE VARSITY CREW WHO WON BY THREE LENGTHS
OVER HARVARD ON THE THAMES RIVER YESTERDAY

New London, June 20.—Yale swept the river with the first two races of the annual regatta with Harvard on the Thames river here yesterday. Yale freshmen won by two lengths and the Yale junior varsity crew finished with a lead of three lengths over the Harvard shell.
Eight huskies from the class of 1928 swept down the Thames river to win for Yale the freshman race, first event of the 63rd annual Yale-Harvard rowing regatta.

IOWA COACHING
SCHOOL DOUBLES
ITS ENROLLMENT

Iowa City, Ia., June 20.—Early returns on the registration in the University of Iowa coaching school indicate that the number of students has been practically doubled. Nearly twice the number of courses previously provided are now being offered. The expansion is preparatory to opening a winter coaching school here and the preparation to award a degree in physical education.

Feeding Air to Fish

In Minnesota last winter organized sportsmen of southern counties got together and installed two large rotary pumps on a lake, cut holes in the ice and pumped air to the fish all winter.

The reason for this strange performance was that the carp, increasing by the thousands, had exhausted all the oxygen in the water and the entire fish life of the lake, rough fish and game fish alike, was threatened.

9—Kind of Putter, and Why.

Don't use a putter with a flat lie. It must be upright enough so that it feels comfortable when you take your stance close enough to the ball to let your eyes be directly over it. Never reach out in the putting stroke. The club heads must be close to the body, much closer than in any other stroke, in order to bring the eyes into the proper position over the ball.

Find the right place on the club face for hitting the ball. Hold the club horizontally, with the face up. Hold a ball just above the face and let it drop. Near the toe the club shivers; not responding properly. Keep testing by dropping the ball on a spot near the middle. There will come a time when the ball rebounds firmly. Usually this point is near the middle in the direction of the heel. Educate yourself to hit every putt from exactly that spot. Better mark the spot by a piece of white surgeon's tape on the top of the putter. Whenever you have a putter in your hand, practice bringing it back and carrying it straight through at right angles.

There are two reasons for keeping the club head low. Perhaps the main reason is to avoid overswinging. Twelve inches back of the ball is as far as the putter ever should go. If you cannot make a 50-foot putt with a back swing of 12 inches there probably is something the matter with your stroke. A suggestion to overcome this will be made in another article. It may be, however, that another club than the putter will serve your purpose better on the long ones. Test this out with a cleek or driving iron if you cannot keep the long putts on the line.

Do not think one must hold the putter with the finger grip used in all other strokes. Almost certainly one can control the club better if the shaft runs up through the middle of the left palm. This also will let one stand nearer the ball and make it easier to get the eyes over it.

GIANT MOTOR
DERBY STAGED

(By United Press)
Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 20.—Residents from all sections of the northern division of the state are arriving here today to witness the giant Motor Derby being staged by the Federated Flyers at the Northern Wisconsin State Fair grounds. The meet will continue tomorrow.
The program for the motor derby will include various aerial maneuvers, aerial stunts and other feature events. The main aerial stunt scheduled is an airplane loop with an acrobat standing on a wing.
Motorcycle racing and auto polo will be the feature track events for the meet. Picked teams representing Minnesota and Wisconsin will compete in a series of auto polo contests.

Two Kinds of Pickerel

There are only two kinds of pickerel.

One is the great pike, the other is the pickerel itself. All other names applied to the great pike, such as great northern pike, northern pike, or great lakes pike, are wrong. He is the great pike, and nothing else, and not a pickerel. The pickerel is a small fish, found mostly in the east, and instead of being spotted like the great pike, is barred, vertically, with a alternate yellow and green in waves.

WASHINGTON TO CARRY HOPES OF WEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 20.—Western superiority has been established in so many lines of sport in late years that there has developed in the East a tendency to look for "Eastern hopes." The hysteria is much like that which boxing experienced during the "white hope" days when there was a public clamor to find some one to beat Jack Johnson.

The West has been supreme on the intercollegiate track and field in four of the past five years. Western football teams have had the edge on Eastern teams in intersectional competition and Western crews have been so successful on the water that Eastern colleges have adopted Western methods and systems of training and teaching.

The champion Washington crew will defend its title Monday on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie against one midwestern and five eastern crews and Washington is the favorite to win again, because the far-westerners seem to be as good as their predecessors, while most of the eastern crews are below standard.

The Navy eight will lead the fight of the East against Washington and Wisconsin, the latter the color-bearers of the middle-west. The Navy, with a powerful crew that suggests the national and Olympic champions of 1920, is being hailed as the "hope of the East," and is generally regarded as the biggest threat in the field.

Syracuse, Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania will complete the field of starters and of the four Pennsylvania is the only crew that is being given any serious consideration.

Columbia and Pennsylvania swapped horses in the middle of the stream this season when they made a change in their varsity coaches. Columbia made such a terrible showing in the Childs Cup race that Bill Haines was brought from Massachusetts Tech to finish the season as varsity coach. He had to make over the entire crew, change the boating in the varsity shell and make corrections in the stroke. No coach can make a good crew in three weeks and there isn't the material at Columbia with which any genius could work a miracle.

AMUSEMENTS

Hoot Gibson Screened in Daring Western Role

Action, rapid and thrilling action, promised to be the keynote of "The Ridin' Kid From Powder River," Universal-Hoot Gibson production to be screened in the Lyceum Theatre tonight only in addition to the big vaudeville comedy act.

Tully Marshall, Gladys Huette, Gertrude Astor and Walter Long have prominent parts in the supporting cast, and a bunch of the Universal Ranch Riders contribute some spectacular horsemanship.

JACKIE COOGAN in "A BOY OF FLANDERS"

Jackie Coogan, in his newest Metro picture, "A Boy of Flanders," is showing at the New Park last time tonight. The story is taken from the Ouida classic, "A Dog of Flanders," which concerns the hardships of a Flemish boy and a dog—their trials and final happiness after an unjust accusation of having set fire to a barn. The picture is said to be the most appealing yet made by the little star.

Tom Moore and Pauline Starke in the Paramount Picture "Adventure" A Victor Fleming Production

Greatest Jack London Fiction Successes Filmed

"Adventure," one of the last stories from the pen of the late Jack London, has been transferred to the screen by the Paramount organization, under the personal supervision of Victor Fleming. Native moviegoers are assured of an hour of excellent entertainment, when this picturesque film drama of the South Sea will be shown at the New Park Sunday only.

If Jack London were alive today, he would probably be one of the most sought-after writers of screen material. He knew how to build up strong, dramatic plots that vibrated with action and life-like characters. His stories breathe a spirit of realism because he wrote of things and people and places that he himself had seen, observed and visited.

The plot centers around the dynamic adventures of a copra plantation owner and his business partner—a fearless woman soldier of fortune. A stirring encounter with head-hunting cannibals, a thrilling under-sea fight, a fierce primitive duel and an exciting ship battle are among the outstanding features in this de luxe screen play.

1 RUN RALLY CROWDS WORKMEN TO WIN OVER Y

FINAL SCORE MARKED UP WAS 7 TO 6 IN FAVOR OF WORKMEN

LATTER NOW TIE FOR FIRST PLACE WITH THE ELKS

By staging a one run rally in the seventh inning, the Workmen scored a 7 to 6 victory over the Y. M. C. A. This victory for the Workmen keeps them in a tie for first place with the Elks.

The game was well played and was no one's game until the last map was out.

The features of the game were the fielding of McAlpine and his two timely clouts. One of them came with two out in the seventh and he scored the winning run later on Howard's single.

The Workmen have won four straight games and are going strong, which will make a grand race for the first half of the season.

IOWA COACHING SCHOOL DOUBLES ITS ENROLLMENT

Iowa City, Ia., June 20.—Early returns on the registration in the University of Iowa coaching school indicate that the number of students has been practically doubled. Nearly twice the number of courses previously provided are now being offered. The expansion is preparatory to opening a winter coaching school here and the preparation to award a degree in physical education.

Feeding Air to Fish

In Minnesota last winter organized sportsmen of southern counties got together and installed two large rotary pumps on a lake, cut holes in the ice and pumped air to the fish all winter.

The reason for this strange performance was that the carp, increasing by the thousands, had exhausted all the oxygen in the water and the entire fish life of the lake, rough fish and game fish alike, was threatened.

9—Kind of Putter, and Why.

Don't use a putter with a flat lie. It must be upright enough so that it feels comfortable when you take your stance close enough to the ball to let your eyes be directly over it. Never reach out in the putting stroke. The club heads must be close to the body, much closer than in any other stroke, in order to bring the eyes into the proper position over the ball.

Find the right place on the club face for hitting the ball. Hold the club horizontally, with the face up. Hold a ball just above the face and let it drop. Near the toe the club shivers; not responding properly. Keep testing by dropping the ball on a spot near the middle. There will come a time when the ball rebounds firmly. Usually this point is near the middle in the direction of the heel. Educate yourself to hit every putt from exactly that spot. Better mark the spot by a piece of white surgeon's tape on the top of the putter. Whenever you have a putter in your hand, practice bringing it back and carrying it straight through at right angles.

There are two reasons for keeping the club head low. Perhaps the main reason is to avoid overswinging. Twelve inches back of the ball is as far as the putter ever should go. If you cannot make a 50-foot putt with a back swing of 12 inches there probably is something the matter with your stroke. A suggestion to overcome this will be made in another article. It may be, however, that another club than the putter will serve your purpose better on the long ones. Test this out with a cleft or driving iron if you cannot keep the long putts on the line.

Do not think one must hold the putter with the finger grip used in all other strokes. Almost certainly one can control the club better if the shaft runs up through the middle of the left palm. This also will let one stand nearer the ball and make it easier to get the eyes over it.

GIANT MOTOR DERBY STAGED

(By United Press)

Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 20.—Residents from all sections of the northern division of the state are arriving here today to witness the giant Motor Derby being staged by the Federated Flyers at the Northern Wisconsin State Fair grounds. The meet will continue tomorrow.

The program for the motor derby will include various aerial maneuvers, aerial stunts and other feature events. The main aerial stunt scheduled is an airplane loop with an acrobat standing on a wing.

Motorcycle racing and auto polo will be the feature track events for the meet. Picked teams representing Minnesota and Wisconsin will compete in a series of auto polo contests.

Two Kinds of Pickerel

There are only two kinds of pickerel.

One is the great pike, the other is the pickerel itself. All other names applied to the great pike, such as great northern pike, northern pike, or great lakes pike, are wrong. He is the great pike, and nothing else, and not a pickerel. The pickerel is a small fish, found mostly in the east, and instead of being spotted like the great pike, is barred, vertically, with a alternate yellow and green in waves.

YALE VARSITY CREW WHO WON BY THREE LENGTHS OVER HARVARD ON THE THAMES RIVER YESTERDAY

New London, June 20.—Yale swept the river with the first two races of the annual regatta with Harvard on the Thames river here yesterday. Yale freshmen won by two lengths and the Yale junior varsity crew finished with a lead of three lengths over the Harvard shell.

Eight huskies from the class of 1928 swept down the Thames river to win for Yale the freshman race, first event of the 63rd annual Yale-Harvard rowing regatta.

The above photograph was taken during the final practice of the Yale varsity eight at Philadelphia before the first big regatta of the year. In the insert is shown Captain A. M. Wilson.
